Audio Book Reviews

The Bachelor Home Companion:

A Practical Guide to Keeping House Like a Pig

• P.J. O'Rourke, Random House Audio, 180 minutes, $16

For the males among us who harbor fond memories of their swinging single days — and who can chortle with P.J. O'Rourke rather than want to choke with him — here's a new audio that's bound to win the "Bad Housekeeping Seal of Approval."

The Bachelor Home Companion is read with relish (that's probably spoiled) by Adam Arkin. This "treatise on the joys of the unmarried state," says O'Rourke, is "a relic, a souvenir of the time when it was 'free alcohol,' not 'alcohol free,' when entitlement meant being a count." P.J. directs his irreverent PC-bashing, elitist chauvinist humor at the necessities of daily survival: housecleaning — "like seduction, should be done from the top down;" cooking — "when the parsley and the meat are the same color, throw the meat away;" and laundry — "if you buy 121 2/3 pair of boxer shorts, you'll only have to go to the Laundromat three times a year."

Backstage Passes: Life on the Wild Side with David Bowie

• Angela Bowie with Patrick Carr, Harper Audio, 180 minutes, $17

For more reminiscences of the "good old days," listen to the "wild, sexy, sorry saga of David and Angie and their pals in glitter" as it's told by Angela Bowie's uninhibited, uncensored, outrageous account of her years of sex, drugs, and rock and roll (with a heavy emphasis on all three).

Forced to remain silent by a gag order that was part of their divorce agreement, Angie had to wait until now to tell all — and that she does with obvious pleasure.

Life Through A Camera Lens

A Candid Conversation with Photographer Anne Converse

For photographer Anne T. Converse, there's a lot more to taking pictures than simply pointing a lens at the subject and clicking the shutter.

For her it entails levels of emotion — about both herself and her subjects.

"I think photography helps you to discover the intuitive in yourself," she said during a recent interview in her Marion home. "Whatever I photograph, I try to find something special about it, sort of catch the spirit of the subject. A good photograph shows how you really feel about something."

Certainly there is a sense of wonder and emotion in some of her best and most simple shots. The subtle candids don't jump out of the many framed and matted prints which decorate her home. Instead, they draw you in and attempt to capture those singular moments which can never be duplicated.

And yet if it were necessary to define what makes some of her photos so appealing, there isn't a precise explanation.

"I like to do candid photographs and capture those 'happy-go-lucky' situations," she said. "And I like to use available light whenever possible. It's difficult to make a shot look natural with a flash."

Having been educated in a style known as Documentary Photography — which is akin to Photojournalism — Ms. Converse looks for those "slice of life" portraits to capture within the confines of her lens. Even from an early age she remembers having an interest in photography.

"My stepfather was an amateur photographer and he was always taking pictures," she said. "At the age of eight, I got my first Brownie camera. As I grew older I maintained my interest in photography and was always photographing my friends at parties."

But it wasn't until her entrance into Endicott Junior College that she made the decision to pursue photography as a career, switching her major from Education. She later went on to earn a degree from the New England School of Photography in 1973, and shortly thereafter met one of her most important influences — Robert Frank Brassai — who taught her about the visual aspects of photography.

"Working with him, it finally clicked," she said. "I understood what photography really was all about."

According to Ms. Converse, Mr. Brassai helped her learn how to frame photographs and to focus on capturing the nuances in every shot.

"I tended to be heavy handed in my early work," she said. "Now I tend to edit my shots more. I look at everything in rectangles. I don't think cropping is something you should depend on. It helps to take shots from different angles or from different distances."

She remembered working with one instructor — Larry Fink — who kept telling her that he wished he could be behind her to push her closer to her subjects. "That's one criticism I used to get — I tend to take a step back from my subjects," she said.

After dabbling in freelance work for awhile, she decided to "get serious" about her work when she turned 30. Still keeping with her Documentary Photography, she fell into taking wedding photos for friends, which led to a part-time gig which she currently maintains.

"Even at weddings, I like taking candid shots," she said. "I'll take some 200 photographs at each wedding, because to me each one is different. I especially find children challenging because they're cute by nature ... so it's harder to make them look relaxed in front of the camera."

Working toward getting her work published commercially, she has done a great deal of traveling over the years with her trusty camera and has a portfolio filled with pictures from Australia, Africa, Egypt, Switzerland, Ireland and Europe.

"I like meeting people from all different backgrounds," she said. "I don't have trouble meeting and talking with people. The way I see it, if you don't go out and experience things, you can't know yourself ... and that's reflected in your work."

In the hopes of getting some work printed, Ms. Converse spent time in Florida last winter taking photographs of racing horses at Payson Park, a thoroughbred training facility in Indiantown. "I decided to start photographing race horses because I needed something to specialize in," she said. "I was told that I had a better chance of getting my work published if I specialized in a particular area."

She described her experience in Florida as both educational and enjoyable. "It took a week or two until I was accepted by the people at the facility," she said. "I sort of came on the scene like a 'wandering spirit.' But I think it's been a good challenge."

Another one of her "accidental" specialties has become aerial photography — especially scenic shots of the tri-town area. Her photos of both Mattapoisett and Marion harbor have earned her a reputation as an aerial photographer, an honor that is somewhat misleading.

"That's something I also fell into by mistake," she said. "I just went up in a plane with a friend one day and started taking pictures. They've since become quite popular."

Although photography is a big part of her life, Ms. Converse said she occasionally needs to take a break from her work. "Sometimes I have to put my camera aside and experience different things," she said. "I get detached when I'm taking photos ... and feel like I'm in a bubble floating around."

to venture to the Far East and Thailand in the future, she enjoys the comfort of her Marion home base and her friends in around the area. And when she isn't busy hoisting a camera, she hoists the sail of her boat and drifts out onto Buzzards Bay.

"I love to sail and it helps balance things out for me," she said. "Traveling by yourself you can do your own thing. It's like a therapy session which I don't have to pay for."

It's clear that Anne Converse's outlook on both life and photography are very much the same — know who you are and where you're from and you'll know where you're going.

"In most cases, photography either works or it doesn't work ... you either like it, or don't like it," she said. "I remember a bumper sticker I once saw in Florida which said: 'A mind is like an umbrella — it has to be open to work.'"

following incoming correspondence for the week:

- A letter from Peter C. Fletcher, Project Leader of the Plymouth County Soil Survey, advising them that the USDA Soil Conservation Service will be conducting research within southeastern Massachusetts and will perhaps be sampling soils within Mattapoisett. This testing will take place July 26 through July 28 and will take from 4 to 6 months for the lab analysis to be completed.

- A copy of Landfill Inspection Report #33 as conducted by Tighe & Bond on July 15. The report was generally favorable and a few recommendations were made by Project Engineer and Inspector R. Michalski. Among them: windblown litter needed to be addressed and a temporary laborer has been employed to address these litter concerns, and dust was obvious on the site, but because of the remoteness of the site, it is not impacting on landfill neighbors.

- A copy of a letter was sent from Nat T. Mule, General Manager of SEMASS, requesting that the town's Board of Health exercise its authority by contacting local restaurants and food markets requiring them to apply an odor oxidizer or a masking agent to food waste from now until October 31. This request is due to the intermittent odor problems at SEMASS during the summer months. It is the opinion of the Board of Health that this is a SEMASS problem and not a town problem.

- Sen. Marc R. Pacheco next submitted a letter to the board regarding the recently-released Educational Reform Informational Packet (a copy of which was also submitted for the board's review) and the Education Reform Bill. In his letter Sen. Pacheco said he was pleased to inform the board that the allocation for FY '94 local aid has been increased under the bill at the impetus of the conference committee and a total of $175 million has been allocated towards funding the reform package.

"Mattapoissett should receive $150,168 in Chapter 70 school aid, $203,982 from lottery distributions, and $9,325 from the municipal stabilization fund (unrestricted local aid)," he wrote. In addition, Old Colony Regional Vocational Technical High School should expect to receive $1,810,816 in state aid and Old Rochester Regional High School should get some $1,034,729.

the needed education reform in Massachusetts.

• Water/Sewer Superintendent William T. Nicholson next submitted a memo to the board relative to Mattapoisett's share of the Fairhaven treatment plant. According to Mr. Nicholson, he was informed by Fairhaven Executive Secretary Jeffrey Osuch that Fairhaven's short-term note is due for renewal on January 7, 1994. The bank requires notification 45 days prior to the due date to begin the process for new borrowing. Therefore, Mattapoisett must notify Fairhaven by November 15 as to what steps will be taken (via town election) in order to comply with the 45-day notification.

Mr. Nicholson said he has requested this information in writing from Mr. Osuch and will provide the board with a copy when it arrives. The board has already discussed holding a Special Town Meeting and Special Election to consider this matter in mid-October.

• William T. Cornish of North Street next sent a letter to the board in response to a complaint and notification he received on July 19 from Dog Officer Brian Nunes that his dog had been causing a disturbance with excessive barking in his neighborhood. Mr. Cornish contends that his dog, "Reggie," is not a barker and he is baffled as to why the complaint was made. He also asked the board to request that Mr. Nunes monitor his area to determine that the complaint was, in fact, unjustified.

• The board received a copy of the quarterly complaint forms filed with Continental Cablevision from customers it serves throughout the tri-town area. During the second quarter of the year, from April 1 - June 30, the following complaints were filed

Under the Executive Secretary's Report, Ms. Adams noted that she received estimates from the Arthur C. Thompson Engineering Company regarding repairs to both Brandt Island Road and Greenbough Drive. On both streets, there needs to be some minor repair and drainage work done to relieve standing water problems. According to Thompson Engineering, the estimated work on Brandt Island Road would cost between $2,500 and $3,500; Greenbough Drive would cost about $2,500.

Ms. Adams and the board agreed to set a date for both the upcoming Special Town Meeting and Special Election. The Special Town Meeting will be held on Monday, October 18 at 7:30 pm and the Special Election will be held on the following day, Tuesday, October 19.

There being no further matters to come before the board, they adjourned for the evening.

At 7:00 pm, Town Clerk Debra M. Blanchette came before the board to get the board's approval and signatures for 16 bond notes to be signed to borrow money in anticipation of tax revenues for the new fiscal year. The 16 notes totalling $410,000 were taken out from Shawmut Bank who bid a low 2.18 percent interest rate (totalling $2,670). Ms. Blanchette said the bank had been removed from the bidding list by her predecessor and putting them back on the list, coupled with the current low interest rates, earned them the ultra-low bond rating. The board unanimously approved the bonds and signed their approval.

Next Harbormaster George Jennings came before the board to discuss changes in the Mooring Fee Collection procedures the town now employs. Mr. Jennings said this year there were some 24 boat owners who failed to pay their mooring fees within the recommended time allotted and another half dozen who have yet to pay their fees at all.

He has recommended a new billing system to take effect next year which would entail the initial bills to be sent out by late March, as per usual. Payment will be due by May 15. A second notice will be issued if unpaid, which is due within 15 days. If still unpaid, a Final Notice will trigger an automatic $100 late fee. If not paid within 10 days, the mooring permit will be cancelled and the mooring tackle will be pulled and seized in lieu of payment without further notice.

The board agreed with Mr. Jennings' recommendation and said the new procedure will take effect next spring. Notice of this new billing procedure will be included with the mooring permit renewal application.

As far as those who haven't paid within the current year, Mr. Jennings said he doesn't feel it wise to penalize those who have paid to date. The six or so odd people who have yet to pay their mooring fees, however, are subject to having them removed immediately.

"I agree that's the best way to proceed," Selectman Winters said. "We have a history here and we need to make it clear that the history is over and the new policy will take effect."

Mr. Jennings also updated the board on the pump-out facility, which has been working quite well over the last few weeks. Mr. Jennings said between May 30 and July 15, he has pumped out about 30 boats. From July 16 to today (July 20), another 20 were pumped out. Mr. Jennings wanted

To request a pump-out, simply ask the dockmaster, call Marion pump-out (channel 9), call the Marion Harbormaster (channel 9 or 748-3535), or go to the Harbormaster's office at Island Wharf.

The board next met briefly with Joyce West and Susan Titus regarding the planting of jonquils near the bandstand across from the Music Hall on Front Street. Chairman Dougall wanted to know if they had decided to stick with jonquils or select some other type of flower. They agreed to use narcissus.

The women said their plan was to plant a bed along the Front Street area. The Marion Garden Club has offered to assist in the project and wanted to board's permission to proceed. They also were interested in planting some shade trees in the area that's roped off near the bandstand.

The board agreed that the area would benefit from some landscaping of this sort and thanked the women for their interest and efforts.

At 7:30 pm Virginia Burk, Public Affairs Manager of New England Telephone came before the board to address their concerns over the town's limited local calling exchange. "I am here at the request of the DPU liaison regarding your concerns over the limited calling area in Marion as compared with Rochester," she said.

Ms. Burk explained that the way the system has been set up by the Department of Public Utilities (DPU), the ability to gain access to a local exchange can only be accomplished if the town or city is contiguous to the home exchange. In other words, Rochester borders Acushnet, which is on New Bedford's exchange, allowing them to call that exchange at the local rate. Rochester also borders Freetown, which is part of the Fall River exchange, affording them a large number of local calling options.

Marion borders only Mattapoisett, Rochester, and Wareham, making these the only local calling exchanges. New Bedford and Cape Cod exchanges are shut off from Marion by geographical boundaries.

Ms. Burk admitted this does put Marion at a disadvantage, but the decision was made by the DPU to follow contiguous exchanges. At the present time, this is their precedent and they are unlikely to change it.

Chairman Dougall said that this has caused quite a problem with Marion businesses and residents, alike, and it seems highly unfair to limit their service to only three local towns. "I think at least New Bedford and towns bordering Buzzards Bay should be made available to us," he said. "We intend to file a petition with the DPU to get this changed. I think the residents of Marion have been unfairly treated long enough by an arbitrary decision of the DPU."

Ms. Burk agreed to report back to the board within a month, regardless of the outcome. Selectman Schaefer agreed action in this matter is long overdue. "I know there are a lot of people who are upset and would like to see things change," she said.

At 7:55 pm, Maurice Smith and James Murray of Ichabod Lane came before the board to discuss the pending situation on the as-yet-unaccepted public way. Mr. Smith started simply by asking the board point blank: "Who ordered the fence to be put up on Ichabod Lane?"

Chairman Dougall said it had been ordered at the request of Department of Public Works Superintendent Robert C. Zora under advice from project engineer Charlie Simpson, and was installed

"due to a potential liability if and when the road was accepted as a public way." Reading from a memo, Chairman Dougall made it clear that Mr. Zora wouldn't accept the road without the fence.

"I don't think he has any business putting up that fence," Mr. Smith said. "That wasn't part of the original repair project. You show me in black and white where it's specified as part of the repair project"

Mr. Pickles stressed that the repair project included all drainage and repairs to the retention basin, of which the fence is a part.

Conservation Commission Chairman Horace Kenney said he didn't recall that the fence was part of the original project. "I have not gone and looked at the Order of Conditions," he said. "But I don't think there was any fence specified. I don't know that the fence would be considered a violation of the Order of Conditions. The person who authorized the fence would perhaps have to request an amendment to the Order of Conditions."

Selectman Schaefer asked Mr. Smith and Mr. Murray if they wanted the fence removed. When both responded they did, she also wanted to know if they were willing to assume full responsibility should anyone be injured by falling into or near the retention pond.

"We don't want to see any kids get hurt,"

Mr. Murray said. "But I don't think Rob Zora has any legal authority to put that fence up, unless he's a lawyer."

In an effort to cool some of the tempers in the room, Ichabod Lane resident Chet Smith asked if there were some other ways to resolve the problems on the road. "I think this project was proposed with the best intentions," he said. "But I also think it's going sour. I think a committee should be formed comprised of residents from the street and the Board of Selectmen and sit down to resolve this matter. Threatening law suits doesn't help anyone. It only makes the lawyers richer and the residents poorer."

After more haggling over whether a retention pond was even part of the original plan at all and reasons as to why two plans were drawn up for the project, Selectman Schaefer recommended waiting until the board's next meeting to resolve things.

"I want to wait to hear Rob Zora's and Charlie Simpson's sides of the story," she said.

"Neither are here to speak for themselves and I think we all need to cool off for a bit."

At 8:25 pm, Michael Moore of Ram Island came before the board to address a pending fireworks display at Allen's Point which was permitted by the Fire Chief. "It is my understanding that there will be substantial fireworks display Saturday night at Allen's Point," he said. "I question whether the permit process should include consideration for the abutters of the property ... as I think I'm at significant risk."

The board told Mr. Moore that the permit process is determined by the state, and they really have nothing to do with granting such special fireworks display permits. Chairman Dougall said he didn't think there would be any problems, as the Fire Chief would ensure that the display is fired in a direction that will not harm any neighboring properties.

Chairman Dougall next considered filling a vacancy on the ConCom. As per a letter sent to the board during a previous meeting, Sherman Briggs, who has been an Associate Member on the ConCom for some time, said he is willing to serve on the Commission despite his chances of jeopardizing potential bidding projects. Mr. Briggs works as a contractor in town, and would be restricted from voting on any projects in which he is directly Although Selectman Winters moved to appoint Mr. Briggs, Selectman Schaefer said she didn't feel totally secure in doing so and wanted to make sure Mr. Briggs' livelihood wouldn't be hurt by his appointment.

"The safest way to handle this is to have Mr. Briggs write directly to the State Ethics Commission and ask for a ruling on this issue," Mr. Pickles said. "This way, they'll give him a direct answer and we'll know before any potential problems arise."

Mr. Briggs agreed to send out a letter with Mr. Pickles help and the board said they would consider his appointment at their next meeting, pending a ruling from the Ethics Commission.

The board then signed the warrants for the week and approved the minutes of the July 13 Executive Session to discuss contract negotiations. Under incoming correspondence for the week, of note were letters of support from Sen. John F. Kerry and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy offering their support in opposing the PCB incineration in New Bedford and a letter from the Department of Environmental Protection regarding another betterment project — the Oakdale Avenue extension and campground area.

"This is the third betterment project we've undertaken and the third time we've had problems," Mr. Pickles noted.

Chairman Dougall next noted the following areas which were officially closed to the taking of shellfish per order of the Division of Marine Fisheries:

- The Haven — that portion of Stony Point Dike West, west of a line drawn northeasterly from the "No Shellfishing" sign at the northeastern end of the Kittansett Gold Club parking lot to the "No Shellfishing" sign located approximately 150 feet east of the entrance to the Haven.

- Hammett's Cove — north of a line drawn east from the "No Shellfishing" sign at 61 Oakdale Street to the "No Shellfishing" sign on the eastern shoreline.

- Sippican Harbor — west of a line drawn northeasterly from the "No Shellfishing" sign at the northeastern end of the Harbormaster's parking lot to the eastern end of the dock located at 156 Front Street.

- Aucoot Cove — west and north of a line drawn northeast from the "No Shellfishing" sign at 88 Aucoot Road to the northwest terminus of Haskell Island north to the "No Shellfishing" sign on the opposite shore.

- Wings Cove — that portion of Wings Cove north of a line drawn easterly from the "No Shellfishing" sign at the dock at 122 Register Road to the "No Shellfishing" sign on the opposite shore.

There being no further matters to come before the board, they adjourned at 9:25 pm. Their next regular meeting will be held on Tuesday, August 3.

Rochester Selectmen's Meeting July 19, 1993

A regular meeting of the Rochester Board of Selectmen was called to order on Monday, July 19 at 7:00 pm by Chairwoman Lorraine Roy Hawkes. Also present were Selectman David L. Hughes, Selectman Michael Murphy and Administrative Secretary Shirley A. Ferreira.

After approving the minutes of the July 12 meeting, Chairwoman Hawkes opened the sealed bids solicited for the scraping, sand-blasting and/or power-washing and repainting of Town Hall on the north and rear sides. The first bid opened was submitted by the John Nutter Company of Rochester, who based their bid on specifications outlined in an invitation to bid from the Board of Selectmen. Their bid, inclusive, was $3,870.

The Painting Services Company, also of Rochester, submitted a bid of $3,985 for sand-blasting, $3,410 for power-washing. Selectman Hughes said he would like to know if the John Nutter Company bid was set regardless of which procedure was used for paint removal. "I think we should hold the bids and have Shirley (Ferreira) call John Nutter and have them specify the price for both methods," he said.

A motion was made by Selectman Hughes to that effect, which was seconded by Selectman Murphy and carried by majority vote. Chairwoman Hawkes said she found it odd that one bid specified both sand-blasting and power-washing estimates when the board's original invitation to bid didn't specify this differentiation.

week, Chairwoman Hawkes first read a Notice of Water Restriction from the Town of Marion for those Rochester residents who are served under Marion's water supply. Effective immediately, the use of outside water for lawns, gardens, car washing, etc., is prohibited except between the hours of 7:00 pm and 9:00 pm on Monday, Wednesday and Friday for even street-numbered houses and Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday for odd numbered homes. Absolutely no outside watering is allowed on Sunday.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts' Bureau of State Office Buildings next submitted an inquiry to the town as to their town flag. The bureau is planning to set up a "Hall of City Flags" at the State House in Boston where every one of the 351 incorporated cities and towns in the state will have a 4x6 foot city flag on display. Selectman Hughes said as Rochester does not have a flag designed and prepared at the present time, they will be unable to fulfill the bureau's request.

Chairwoman Hawkes, however, asked if any residents are skilled in sewing a flag of this size and would be interested in doing so to please contact them c/o Town Hall. A town logo is already available, and the flag could be easily fashioned with the logo on a plain background.

Patrick F. Mahoney, President of the Energy Answers Corporation in Albany, NY next sent a letter to the board complimenting the past efforts of former Conservation Commission Chairwoman Georgia Chamberlain. Mr. Mahoney specified that as his organization is a general partner in the SEMASS Resource Recovery Facility, he has had ample opportunity to work with Ms. Chamberlain for her past efforts in helping with the SEMASS facility.

"Georgia was involved from the beginning," Mr. Mahoney wrote, "and she is the last person representing the town to have participated from the start and so I'd like to extend a special thank you to her from EAC and SEMASS. (Her) supportive leadership in guiding the Commission through complex and demanding environmental reviews for this tremendous undertaking resulted in an award-winning facility which has, at this writing, provided Rochester with more than $4,600,000 in revenues, many jobs, and significant environmental and Chairwoman Hawkes moved that a copy of the letter be sent to Ms. Chamberlain, which was approved by a unanimous vote of the board.

The board next received information from the Small Towns Against Repression (STAR) regarding the plight of small communities losing their property to state-owned land and a request for discussion on payment in lieu of taxes for membership with the organization. As the board agreed there are no available funds at this time, they decided to forgo membership fees with STAR.

General information was next submitted from the Department of Labor and Industries regarding prevailing wages and pending compensation.

Chairwoman Hawkes next noted the receipt of a check from SEMASS in the amount of $139,927.13, representing 71,029 tons for the month of June. Chairwoman Hawkes noted that the money will be applied to this fiscal year as the check was

Under the board's signature, the Selectmen signed and approved the following revised ballot question for the Special Town Election to be held on August 25:

"Shall the Town of Rochester be allowed to assess an additional $100,000 in real estate and personal property taxes for the purpose of repairing and resurfacing Mary's Pond Bridge for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1993?"

Chairwoman Hawkes noted that the amount of the excluded expenditure (the money used) would be added to the levy limit for one year and be treated as a Capital Outlay expense. In other words, the money will be raised through taxes solely during the 1993-1994 fiscal year and would not increase the overall levy limit.

The board was also asked to approve an invoice from the Department of Employment and Training for $390.08, representing unemployment compensation for Ward Benner for the month of June. Selectman Hughes asked if they could hold the invoice for one week to check on the status of a requested hearing on the matter. "We requested a hearing some time ago, and we never got a response," he said. "I move that we hold the bill and ask why we were never notified."

The motion was seconded by Selectman

Murphy and carried by majority vote.

In today's mail, Chairwoman Hawkes noted a copy of the Education Reform Package sent from the Massachusetts Department of Education had been sent for the board's perusal. A copy of a letter from SEMASS to the Rochester Board of Health was also sent to the board advising them that all restaurants and markets in town should take steps to cut down on odorous waste sent to the facility. SEMASS recommends the use of certain chemicals and treatments to decrease the smell from food waste delivered to the plant. Among these were hydrated lime and sodium bicarbonate.

Chairwoman Hawkes noted that Regional Sanitarian Karen Walega was already informed and is taking steps to assist in this matter.

Under Old Business, Selectman Hughes asked if Chairwoman Hawkes thought herself capable of being objective in the police negotiating meeting later this week in light of her past experience as a state police officer. "I know last week you said you were going to sit in on the negotiations as our representative," he said. "I just want to ask you if you think you can be fair and objective."

Chairwoman Hawkes assured him that she is acting on behalf of the Town of Rochester. Selectman Hughes moved that she act on behalf of the Board of Selectmen, which was seconded by Selectman Murphy and passed by a majority vote.

At 7:30 pm, Fire Chief Joseph Clapp and Lt. Scott Ashworth came before the board for the opening of sealed bids solicited for the purchase of a new 1250 gallons per minute pumper/tanker for the Fire Department. The following bids were opened and read by Chairwoman Hawkes:

- C&S Specialty, Inc., North Smithfield, RI — no bid submitted, claiming specifications were too restrictive and written around one manufacturer.

- Fire Resources, Inc., Assonet, MA — $166,487 (model KME G1250).

Selectman Hughes moved that all the bids and specification packages be handed over to the fire department for their review and recommendation next week. As the board did not plan to meet next week, Chairwoman Hawkes said a special meeting will have to be scheduled. Both Selectman Hughes and Selectman Murphy were anxious to have the department award the bid and place the order for the new truck.

At 7:45 pm, William Chamberlain came before the board as a hired agent for Edward Ritter regarding Mr. Ritter's pending Earth Removal Permit for a cranberry bog on his property. Mr. Chamberlain said he needed to have some things clarified about the application before the project could go any further.

Among the points of contention: Mr. Chamberlain wanted to know specifically which abutters were to have their wells tested, which culvert may be used as a means of exit, what type of asphalt — fresh or reprocessed — could be used to pave the access road, and at exactly what point the Selectman Hughes, after consulting a map of the site, told Mr. Chamberlain that the revisions recommended would require the refile of a new Earth Removal Permit application and would also require another public hearing. Mr. Chamberlain said he had no objections to that and wanted the project to proceed as quickly as possible.

"Nothing has been signed up to now because no bonds have been issued and not all the criteria have been met," Chairwoman Hawkes agreed. "You'll have to advertise and hold a new hearing."

Mr. Chamberlain was amenable to the board's request and agreed to submit a new, revised plan for the Earth Removal Permit at the site.

Under Old Business, the board decided to reach a compromise on the pending police badges to be issued to former reserve officers with the town. Chairwoman Hawkes moved that three new badges be issued to the parties in question, specifying "Retired Reserve Officer," and that they be paid for out of the Police Department Expense account. The board unanimously agreed with the motion.

Selectman Murphy next informed the board that he had spoken with someone at Mattapoisett's Landfill who had requested assistance from the Rochester Fire Department in wetting down the landfill because it's dry and dusty from all the humid weather. The Mattapoisett Fire Department doesn't have enough equipment to complete the job alone, and Selectman Murphy said he had been asked to bring the matter up before the board.

Chairwoman Hawkes said she would like to see a formal request, in writing, from Mattapoisett

Selectman Hughes was taken aback by the suggestion. "Don't you have enough trust in your fellow board members to take their word for it?" he asked. "I mean, is everything going to be required in writing from now on?"

"I just think we need to get something in writing to cover our (selves)," she said. "Just in case there's any problem."

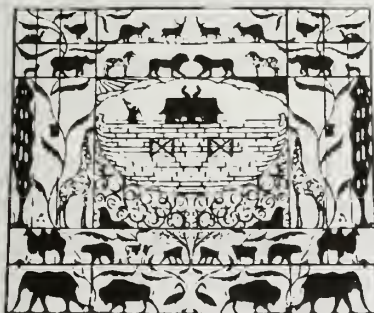

There being no further matters to come before the board, they agreed to meet next week (July 26) at 4:00 pm to consider the Fire Department's recommendation for the pumper/tanker bid and adjourned for the evening at 8:30 pm.

When asked how long he's been in the entertainment field, Scott replied: "Oh, about 28 silly-meters," which translates into eight human years. Coming from a family abundant in using and appreciating clean humor, it was natural for him to desire a career using comedy entertainment. "I always wanted to be a brain surgeon," he said. "But I can't since I neither have the brains or 'patients' for it!"

Following Scott's free Circus Preview, discount tickets to the circus will be available, where half of all advance sales will profit the Lions Club Charities. In addition, some lucky children who participate in Scott's show will receive complimentary tickets to the circus.

In 1993, the Vidbels are celebrating their tenth birthday of their circus. During these ten years Vidbel's Olde Tyme Circus has gained a reputation of being an outstanding family-oriented circus. Joyce Vidbel describes her circus performance as "our families entertaining your families for two hours during our annual visit to over one hundred and sixty towns and cities along the East Coast."

The 1993 edition of Vidbel's Circus features three generations of the Vidbel family. Sadie, Jennifer and Susan, grandchildren of Joyce and Al Vidbel and now in their teens, have been performing since they were five years old. Needless to say, they are watched with great pride by their parents and grandparents.

The Mattapoisett Lions Club is sponsoring the visit of Vidbel's Circus in Mattapoisett. They ask the public support their fundraising project by buying reduced price advance tickets now.

Tickets are available now at Don's Tire, Village Styling Shop, G.H. Dunn Insurance Agency, the Ice Cream Slip, and from Clayton King.

Harbor Days Are Here Again 10th Annual Event Draws Record Crowd

"I think it's the biggest turnout we've ever had," said James Shepley, Chairman for this year's Annual Harbor Days Festival. "And we owe it all to a very cooperative and dedicated group of people out there."

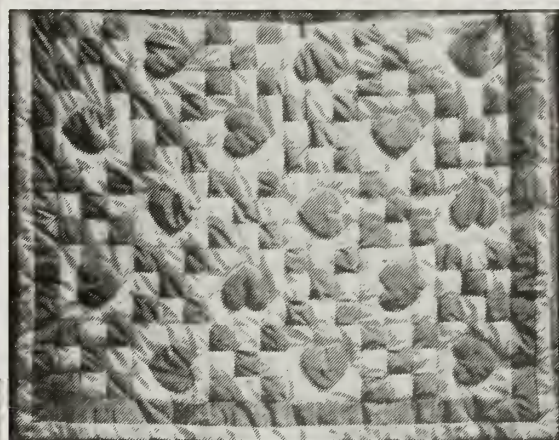

Although final tallies were unavailable at press time, members of the Mattapoisett Lions Club, the group which has hosted and sponsored the annual event for the last decade, agreed that this year's turnout was the best it's ever been. Some 97 arts and crafts booths filled the lawn at Shipyard Park from Friday, July 16 through Sunday, July 18 while countless numbers of Mattapoisett residents, family members, friends and guests enjoyed the perfect weekend weather, the fine offering of food, and variety of entertainment.

Some 70 to 80 percent of the Lions Club's active members worked in some capacity during the weekend, many putting in time during each of the three-day event.

"I'm really appreciative of all the dedicated Lions who worked in all facets of the event," Mr.

Shepley said. "I think it was a fitting finale to an already-great year for the Mattapoisett Lions Club."

Mr. Shepley also cited the combined efforts of several town organizations, including the Mattapoisett Highway Department, the Mattapoisett Police Department, the Mattapoisett Board of Health, and the Mattapoisett Board of Selectmen, in getting the weekend off the ground. Among others who were credited with making the weekend a success: several local suppliers of food, ice, soda and meat and excellent coverage from the local media organizations.

As Immediate Past President of the Lions Club, Mr. Shepley was automatically made

Chairman of Harbor Days for 1993, and he cited the particular efforts of three past chairmen who assisted him throughout the weekend — Don Correia, Barry Denham and Mike Lamoureux.

"I've worked eight of the last ten years at Harbor Days, and this year was a great success," Mr. Shepley said. "We ran out of food several times and I'm confident we raised a significant amount of money for our charity efforts.

"I think we were fortunate to have great weather throughout the weekend as well, which helped to bring out the people in full force."

The lucky winner of the raffle drawing for an original watercolor painting of the Shipyard Park gazebo by local artist David Baggerly was James Hubbard of Mattapoisett Neck Road.

Money raised from the weekend will help fund the Mattapoisett Lions Club's many charitable efforts, including local projects like the recent restoration of the pavilion at Ned's Point, and will also go toward a variety of other worthy programs supporting eye research, Christmas drives for food and clothing, special events for the elderly and shut-ins, the Quest program (providing drug awareness for grade school students), the Lazarus organ donor program, and the annual Youth Speech Contest sponsored by the club.

"I would venture to say that we raised 15 to 20 percent over last year's total," Mr. Shepley said. "I'm very pleased everything worked out as well as it did."

Town of Marion Remains on Restricted Water Use

The extended drought, coupled with

Memory Lane

"Where the past meets the present."

abnormally high temperatures, has substantially increased the demand for water. Demand has exceeded the Town's production capacity.

The Marion Board of Selectmen, acting as Water Commissioners, has placed the Town on water restrictions. Now in effect, the use of outside water for lawns, gardens, car washing, etc., is prohibited except between the hours of 6:00 and 8:00 pm on Monday, Wednesday and Friday for even street-numbered homes, and Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday for odd street-numbered homes.

No outside watering is allowed on Sunday.

Work is continuing on our new Perry Hill well site. The pumps have been installed. The wells will be cleaned, tested and the station tested and we anticipate completion by the end of July.

If you have any questions, you may contact the Water Department at 748-3540 or the Executive Secretary at 748-3550.

Summer Fair in Marion

The First Congregational Church of Marion announced that the "nearly 50 year old" Summer Fair will take place on the church grounds on Saturday, July 24. David Pierce has been named Chairman of the 1993 Summer Fair.

The church's Sewing Society sold aprons, baby clothes, and other clothing they had hand sewn to raise money for mission work in the early 1940's. The Summer Fair evolved into an important social event for the church community, and today the fair has become a major fundraising event in the church calendar.

Susan Nichols and her team of volunteers have begun recipe planning for the Prepared Foods Table. Cheddar cheese by the pound will be sliced by Ruby and Bob Jones, while Clark and Ruth Streeter will manage the Sweet Shop. The Children's Corner will offer craft activities, games, and treats for children under the supervision of Phyllis Washburn. The Chapel Cafe in the Community Center will sell lobster rolls and other luncheon fare.

If you are cleaning your attic and cellar, Yvonne Jackson will accept your donations to the White Elephant Table. Toys, puzzles, and games are always popular with browsers. Call Yvonne at 748-0378. If your bookshelves need weeding, Carol and Bob

A powerful prayer to the Holy Spirit -

Holy Spirit, you who solve all problems, who light all roads so I can attain my goals, you who give me the divine gifts to forgive and forget all evil against me, in this short prayer, to thank you for all things and confirm once again that I never want to be separated from you, even in spite of all material illusions. I wish to be with you in eternal glory, thank you for your mercy towards me and mine. The person must say this prayer for three consecutive days. After three days, the favor requested will be granted, even if it may appear difficult. This prayer must be published immediately after the favor is granted without mentioning the favor. Only your initials shall appear at the bottom. C.S.
